

Workshop G9T2 - Don't get played for a fool!

TIMING

15'	15'	Activity 1 – Is society male?
20'	35'	Activity 2 – Where are the women?
20'	55'	Activity 3 – We can change our trajectories
10'	65'	Activity 4 – What can I take away from this?
5'	70'	Activity 5 – Let's publish our impressions

DESCRIPTION OF ACTIVITIES

Workshop objectives	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Becoming aware of the subtle, constant violence women face as a result of patriarchal culture. 2. Developing a critical view of gender roles and the limitations they impose on women. 3. Becoming aware of feminist movements and their struggle for a society that's fairer for everyone.
Before starting this workshop	If we're following the guide workshop by workshop, we can ask students what they remember from last time, and encourage them to share their impressions. We can invite students to guess what we'll talk about this session, based on the workshop title: "Don't get played for a fool!" This title means that we shouldn't let ourselves be fooled by the patriarchal roles that try to define our futures and tell us how we should act. We should accept any guesses students make and then start the workshop to see if any of them are correct.
Activity 1	Is society male? (15') Activation activity. Activity for reflection where we look at different photographs and analyse the presence of men and women in each.
Activity 2	Where are the women? (20') Internet or bibliography search.
Activity 3	For or against (30') In groups, play a game involving remembering the names of famous people in different fields.
Activity 4	What can I take away from this? (10')
Activity 5	Let's publish our impressions (5')

NOTE: this document is a summary of how to complete the workshop. You'll find a detailed description of the activities and any additional information in the workshop file.